Appearance

Personality

Cicero is timid, shy, and deeply insecure about himself. Having been kept as a captive by the pirates, he is hesitant to trust but highly appreciative of kindness. He often stammers and gets easily flustered when flirted with, making him a very sweet, submissive companion.

Story

"Cicero is discovered locked inside the holding cells in Section 1-E of the Pirate Base. After you defeat Bradley and secure the facility, you can release the captive lizard and offer him a place on your ship. He eagerly accepts, looking for a fresh start among the stars."

Spicy Scenes

- The Flirtation: You can flirt with Cicero by teasing him about what he's hiding under his loincloth. He will blush and jokingly ask why you assume he even has a penis, as his alien anatomy is hidden behind a slit.
- The Shower Scene: You can join Cicero in the ship's showers. The encounter is sweet and intimate. When his reptilian cock emerges with a sticky sound, he apologizes for it not being very big. You can reassure him and jerk him off under the spraying water, sharing a tender, passionate moment as he cums.

How to romance him?

Cicero requires a gentle, reassuring approach.

- Recruitment: You must discover him in the Pirate Base cells and free him after defeating Bradley.
- Building Trust: Talk to him frequently on the ship. Be kind and validating. He will open up about wanting to see the stars and experiencing freedom. When he expresses insecurity about his body or his "small" reptilian anatomy, validate him and tell him you find it delicious.
- Taking the Lead: Because he is so shy, you will need to gently push the boundaries. Offer to help him in the shower and guide his hands, showing him that he is safe and desired on your ship.
