> “What can I get you? Or are you just here to take up space?

Appearance

A massive, hulking creature made entirely of living, cracked stone. He blends in perfectly with the dusty, harsh environment of Sithyrya, tending the bar in Kavhar with his heavy, rocky hands.

Personality

Gravel is gruff, blunt, and highly business-oriented. Running a cantina in a lawless refugee town like Kavhar means he has seen it all and has zero tolerance for trouble or freeloaders. Despite his literal stony exterior, he has a surprisingly high sex drive and is entirely open to trading strong drinks for physical favors, enjoying rough, frictionless encounters.

Story

"Gravel is the bartender of the only operational cantina in Kavhar, the ruined town outside the Silent Plains on Sithyrya. He provides local rumors, serves incredibly potent alcohol, and facilitates important meetings with shady contacts like Snake."

Spicy Scenes

Gravel's scenes are defined by his unique, highly abrasive anatomy:

- The Backroom Bargain: If you don't have enough credits for a drink, or simply want to experience his unique biology, you can offer your body as payment. Gravel will take you into the dusty back room of the cantina. Because his cock is made of solid, grinding stone, the encounter is incredibly rough, generating intense friction that borders on painful as he relentlessly pounds your hole.
- The Bar Shift / Glory Hole: Gravel's bar features a seedy glory hole in the bathrooms where you can service the rough patrons of Kavhar to earn extra credits.
- Drinking with the Crew: You can bring crew members, like Katari, to Gravel's bar. Getting them heavily intoxicated with Gravel's strong alien liquor unlocks hidden dialogue where they confess their extreme sexual fantasies.

How to romance him?

Gravel is not a traditional romance option. Your relationship with him is entirely casual and transactional, centered around the cantina.

- Submissive / Bottom Route (Transactional): To initiate scenes with him, visit his cantina in Kavhar. You can offer yourself to him to pay for drinks or information. When he takes you to the back room, you must submit to his overwhelming physical weight and endure the intense, abrasive friction of his stone body. He is strictly a dominant top who views the encounter as a fair trade for his services.
