“ I'm more of an action person.

Appearance

A brunette bearded guy with green eyes. Rylan has a scar on his face, over his right eye and he wears a golden earring on his left earlobe.

Personality

He's flirty, reserved and secretive.

Story

"He assaulted you in the lunchroom while you were wandering around the ship and put you in the most humiliating position possible."

Spicy Scenes

Rylan has some hidden scenes if you play as bottom, to trigger them follow these steps:

*When you repair the ship's engine interrupt the process, go find Rylan and ask him to do it. After a while he will want to go out to pee, if the kink watersports is activated, block his way.

*When fighting the Sub-Guh'Nirs in Akra's subway facility, tease the creatures and surrender afterwards. From the second time Rylan will take some liberties.

*When we unlock the room where Garth's thugs are, we will have an option to take dangerous substances with them. Rylan will appear in one of the scenes if bondage is active, and we have at least 6 desire points with him.

How to romance him?

*When you meet him in the lunchroom select "Rub your ass against him". During the conversation afterwards answer the following: "I guess you did what you could", "Return the compliment", and "I can't refute that" to get the highest points.

If you fix the ship's engine before meeting him, you will get an extra dialogue that will give you the option to kiss him, do it to gain 1 additional desire point.

If you try to fix the engine after meeting him, you can leave the job half done and ask Rylan for help. If you have the pissing kink activated, block his way when he tries to go to the bathroom to gain 2 desire points and 1 friendship point, but you will lose respect.

*When you go up to his room, if you have any desire points with him he'll suggest you to have sex, accept to gain 3 desire points.

*When fighting him, no matter if it's before landing the ship or after, combat using seduction techniques (don't forget to put on the armor he gave you). If he reaches 20 lust points or more before he defeats you, you'll get an additional sex scene, after which there will be a short dialogue. Answer "Me too" and "That's what was exciting" to get more points.

After the fight you will continue practicing, to get as many points as possible select "Be gentle". The rest of the options will give you 1 point in desire or friendship. Select "Tease him > Yes" or "Compliment him" to earn a desire point, or any of the others to earn a friendship point.

*If after landing in Akra we have less than 11 desire points, we can recover them by fighting against the Sub-Guh'Nirs in the subway facilities. To do this we have to excite the creature until their dicks come out and then surrender. From the second time Rylan will take advantage of us, we will lose respect but we will also gain desire points with him, until we reach 11.

*After landing on Akra, you can go to his room at night and have sex with him up to 7 times to earn 7 more desire points.

*After doing Galiano's first mission, we go back to his room at night and ask him how his day went. When he brings up the subject of his debt, we agree to pay it and then answer "Cause I like you" to get 5 friendship points. It is important to do this mission because it gives us the necessary friendship points to have him on our side.

After paying the debt, we talk to him again to get more points. If we answer "You don't have to pay me back" we'll get a lot of them.

*After completing the mission "Attack on pirates" we will gain 5 friendship points if we choose to forgive him. After which we go to his room to talk about it. Select "I understand why you did it" to get a total of 20 points.

*If we have followed the guide we'll have enough points to see the "Date" option when talking to him in his room. The minimum for the option to appear is 20, both in friendship and desire. It 's also required to have visited Sithyrya at least once.

*After the date we will have some options to play with him (a CG is unlocked if we play as top), change the type of relationship and even end it.

*When we land in Sithyrya, we should go meet his brother Riordan. If Rylan is not there (there is a two in three chance that he won't be), his brother will ask us a favor. We should decline it and search for a cure."
