Version 0.50.1

NEW CONTENT

- You can now continue the mission on Urukai to help the shamans. After talking to Q'Lan, return to the plains then Fringe Canyons.
  - There are two new battles. One against the shaman Varek and another against Abyssal Gargoyle.
    - If you manage to defeat Varek by hitting him (without using lust), he will give you a weapon that works as unarmed combat.
      - It's normal to find this battle difficult to win. The idea is that you need another skill that can be obtained in the lands of another shaman (still to be done). Still you can defeat him if you have patience and lots of healing pills.
  - Chaman Varek teaches you a new unarmed combat skill called Sha'Korr, which significantly increases your defense for 10 turns.
  - A new scene with Katari can be triggered when exploring the Fringe Canyons
- You can now whore yourself on Akra. Go to Dark Alley > Whore Yourself. You can do this regardless of your role. It's a work in progress, so there are few scenes.
  - You'll have to pay a fee to Galiano if he's not in prison.
- Now you can end up in prison. For now, only available if you whore yourself on Akra. Once every five days police can appear an take you to prison, unless you do something about it. The prison is also a work in progress, so you'll encounter WIPS.
- Damien won the poll, but I couldn't finish the content on time. It's about 70% complete. So next week I'll upload a new version with the finished content.

ART

- Chaman Varek.
- Abyssal Gargoyle.

That's all! More next week! Thank you all for your support!
