The cat chases the mouse
Or is the mouse chasing the cat
Soaring above and away it is hard to tell
Soft rustles of air obscure the noise
Is it a game or is it a hunt
Neither looks up or notices me
The danger is unnoticed
While they chase one another
They think they know the risk
Shall I shatter their notions?
Shall I show them their error
Show them that death comes from on high...
Shall I be the last shadow they see?
